

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT (PD) GRANTS

information guide

WHAT is a professional development (PD) grant?

The PD grants funding supports the professional learning needs of educators, providers and communities in the ACE sector.

Type	Amount	Purpose
Small grant	Up to $5,000	For workshops or one off training sessions
Innovation grant	Up to $50,000	For professional development plans or strategies

CRITERIA

To apply for a grant, you must:

- Be a charitable and non-profit organisation or community group
- Be an education provider or community group working together with other organisations or across regional offices
- Provide ACE services
- Have a focus on improving learning for ACE learners
- Have a focus on improving learning for Māori and/or Pasifika learners
- The activity or project must meet the definition of professional development – learning to increase the level of skill and effectiveness of educators and adult and community learning services.

To apply for an Innovation grant, you must meet the above criteria and also:

- Have a professional development plan or strategy with clear goals and objectives
- The activity or project must meet the definition of innovative – doing something new or different.

WHAT is ACE?

Adult and Community Education (ACE) is part of New Zealand's tertiary and broader education sector. ACE is identified in many forms including informal education and non-formal education, post-compulsory education, adult learning, lifelong learning, leisure and recreation learning. Through ACE adults may choose to engage in a range of education activities within the community. It provides individual and group learning and promotes whānau empowerment, equity, active citizenship, critical and social awareness and sustainable development.
